Thought for Today

Easter day is the 'day of all days', the 'feast of all feasts' as early Christian's spoke of it. Today we celebrate that God acted when all seemed lost. We rejoice that disaster was turned into victory that God brought hope out of what seemed hopeless, that out of a cold dark tomb new life has come and so everything is different. I treasure these words from a Paschal homily of St John Chrysostomos preached on Easter day around about 400 AD:

Enter then, all of you, into the joy of our Lord.
First and last, receive alike your reward.
Rich and poor, dance together.
You who fasted and you who have not fasted, rejoice together.
The table is fully laden: let all enjoy it.
The calf is fatted: let none go away hungry.

Let none lament his poverty;
for the universal Kingdom is revealed.
Let none bewail his transgressions;
for the light of forgiveness has risen from the tomb.
Let none fear death;
for death of the Saviour has set us free.

He has destroyed death by undergoing death.
He has despoiled hell by descending into hell.
He vexed it even as it tasted of His flesh.
Isaiah foretold this when he cried:
Hell was filled with bitterness when it met Thee face to face below;
filled with bitterness, for it was brought to nothing;
filled with bitterness, for it was mocked;
filled with bitterness, for it was overthrown;
filled with bitterness, for it was put in chains.
Hell received a body, and encountered God. It received earth, and confronted heaven.
O death, where is your sting?

O hell, where is your victory?

Christ is risen! And you, o death, are annihilated!
Christ is risen! And the evil ones are cast down!
Christ is risen! And the angels rejoice!
Christ is risen! And life is liberated!
Christ is risen! And the tomb is emptied of its dead;
for Christ having risen from the dead,
is become the first-fruits of those who have fallen asleep.

To Him be Glory and Power, now and forever, and from all ages to all ages.
Amen!

On 23 April 2023 Martin Carr (Fred and Yvonne's son) is taking part in his 17th London Marathon in aid of the charity ActionAid, who work to support women and girls in some of the poorest communities in the world. A better world is possible so if you can support vulnerable people even in a small way then the challenge is worthwhile and appreciated.

Does All Saints have Talent? Have you always wanted to try something new? On the Bank Holiday Monday (8th May) following the Coronation we are being asked to think about the "Big Help Out", a time when we get together to help out our own community including finding out about the fantastic ways we can get involved by joining in, lending a hand and making a change.

At All Saints we will be running a series of workshops, led by people who use the Centre or members of the congregation. It will be an opportunity to come along, maybe try something new, or find out more about the wide range of activities that take place.

If you would like to share a talent, bake a cake or generally get involved in organising please get in touch with felicity.shoesmith@icloud.com or Lesley Ogilvie ladythornehouse@icloud.com Look out for more information....
